Because it grew out of the Ellwood-coordinated efforts of a number of different designers, the architecture of Craig Ellwood & Associates achieved a resonance with its time that is the source of its lasting interest. This book documents all the Ellwood buildings that remain on the records, a total of some ninety structures.

and Gerry Miller hired Craig Ellwood (and Ellwood ' s first associate - draftsman Ernie Jacks) in 1953 to design a home for a flat lot near San Diego State College akin to others in the series of early ' wall houses ' . In 1956-57, Craig Ellwood was the subject of a one-man show at San Diego State College, produced in part by local modernist architect Lloyd Ruocco.

Current Photographs by Scott Mayoral unless otherwise noted. Completed in 1961, this single family house designed by noted designer Craig Ellwood (1922-1992) today is as pristine as it was when first finished. Its grand presence is felt upon arrival from Madrone Place. Raised on 32 steel columns, it floats majestically on a small half acre site facing a golf-course on its north side.
